Twenty years after a short documentary about his artist father, Portrait de mon père aquarelliste, Belgian film-maker Jean-Noël Gobron turns his attention to his mother in Portrait de ma mère poète. Marie-Jo Gobron-Coevoet was a Flemish poet who wrote in French, and produced an autobiographical novel in 2004. Gobron draws a deeply affectionate portrait of his mother, who discovered herself through art and love. She died last November.
